The Oregon railway and navigation track was opened as far after noon and from now on the work of the can proceed one receptitiously, as the wagon road from bore to Lextsuction is good and supplies can be bruild in by team in a few hours after they reach the end of the railroad. It probably will be several days before the track is opened to Reponer, as the road is washed out for almost the entire distance of nine miles.

The scene from the billide overlook-

The scene from the hillside overlook-ng the town is one of desolation. Hage piles of wreckage, in many places fifty feet high, fill the canyon for half a mile below the town. As the dehris, which is covered by many feet of mud, which is covered by many feet of mud, is cleared away more bodies are found. Immense bowiders weighing tons were rolled along by the fixed and deposited in the midst of the town orlodged against buildings. An appeal has been sent out for men to clean the streets and to assist in searching the great mass of dehrls for bodies.

The Lonieville moddle has been settled. The Court of Appeals up-holds the Democratic primary held in Jefferson county and the City of Louisville on May 30, and emsains the Committee which called and conducted the primary. The decision is a clear knock-out for Allie Young. The opinion was handed down by Jodge Paynter, a majority of the court-concurring. The best element of the Whallen faction will support the nominees of the May primary, and all is lovely for the Democratic party.

Wonderful progress is being made by the Mineral Exhibit Committee of Kentucky Exhibit Association in procuring specimens for the display in the Mines and Metallargy Building at the World's Fair 18 St. Louis next year. At the meeting of this committee, held in Louisville a few days ago, reports were made by the different members representing the different classifications in this department, which showed conclusively that the mineral exhibit from Kentucky at the Exposition will equal; if indeed it does not surpass, that of any other State in the Union.

As it is, the Judge, jurc or friend of the aconsed who attempts to stand between them and their richly merited punishment will but involve himself in the ruin coming to them. The case made out against White and Jest by the Commonwealth is strong enough to make the result certain. Their whole course leaves but the one explanation. The assassins have been tools in the hands of men who felt that their political power, personal influence and wealth gave them the power to do as they would without fear of consequences. It is enough to punish the assassins, the men responsible for their actions should share their punishment. The latest act of violence in the long history of Brachitit's shame is a blow in the face of the State itself. The contempt shown for its authority, the disbelief in its determination to stamp out evil, the utter diverged of the warnings uttered by the prises cannot be passed over. Nothing can be expected from the people of Jackoton and Brachits county. Those of them not under the domination of the faction responsible for these things is too greatly in dread of its power to life hand against it. The remedy must come from the Governor and the rest of the State. The town should be placed under martial law; every officer of the court against whom there is the least suppicion of latkowammens, cowardies or secret influence should be given the opportunity to resign and, if he fails to take advantage of it, be removed. Now that the Dedication Ceremonies of the Louisians Purchase Exposition (the World's Fair) are so close at hand, the public is commencing to wonder what St. Louis has to offer in the way of entertainment to out of town visitors.

The Henderson Ronte (which is The World's Fair Line) has gotten out a very neat booklet, vest-pocket size, which contains the complete official program of these ceremo
